“We started working with Media 10 last year, our first show being the Ideal Home show London, when it returned to Kensington Olympia. After a successful first show we soon realised the potential of earnings from Media 10 exhibitions and we now are part of 6 shows across the company with two stands in each. We have grown so much in the last year as a company and hope to continue this growth by working with Media 10.”

“The Ideal Home Show was better than what we ever expected, after hearing the downfall of the show many years back it was a risk for us being a new start-up company. We sold more ovens than we targeted and will be part of the future shows moving forward.”

Alphapro

A seasoned exhibitor at The Ideal Home Show, this year proved our most successful show yet. Our stand attracted a plethora of visitors every day, some who had seen us exhibit in previous years, many who had not and were fascinated by their first demonstration of our unique StudyBed. Our exhibition team were certainly kept busy! In total, over the duration of the show we took 145 deposits for orders.
